Participatory Governance Model

This document serves to provide an overview of the participatory governance process at Cerro Coso Community College; how decisions are made and the linkage among the various constituent groups. This document strives to demonstrate how those constituent groups' items and issues of concern are brought forward to the College President to ensure that all parties are heard and represented. This document also provides information regarding the procedures and responsibilities of the College Council, its associated and reporting committees, and representatives.

Introduction & Purpose

Cerro Coso Community College hereby establishes a model for participatory governance to facilitate broad participation and involvement in college decision-making by all members of the college community, including students, faculty, classified staff and administrators. The College President, however, retains ultimate authority and responsibility for all decisions. In keeping with the spirit of the Education Code of the State of California, the success of participatory governance at Cerro Coso depends upon the levels of cooperation and trust attained, the values shared, and the consensus achieved among all college constituencies. The goal of the participatory governance process is to bring together all constituent groups in order to facilitate the development of college-wide recommendations.

Participatory governance at Cerro Coso must also function harmoniously with, but separate from, collective bargaining laws and the negotiated agreements between the respective employee bargaining units and the Kern Community College District. The California School Employees Association (CSEA) and the Community College Association (CCA) represent the college classified staff and the faculty, respectively, in all matters pertaining to hours, wages, and working conditions. The Academic Senate also has rights and responsibilities that are defined by AB1725 (commonly referred to as the 10 + 1) and reflected in District Board Policy. A complete list of these rights and responsibilities is available in the State Academic Senate website.

The participatory governance model strives to function within:

- the mandates of AB 1725, the Education Code, and Title V of the Code of Regulations
- the Collective Bargaining Agreement(s), and
- the Board Policies of the Kern Community College District.

Value of Participatory Governance

Participatory governance is a process and structure designed to enable those who work and study in an academic institution to share the responsibility for planning and guiding the direction of the institution and for the implementation of recommendations and decisions. While decisions are not always based on majority rule, due to a number of factors, participatory governance shares the democratic belief in the inherent equality and dignity of persons, and the goal of promoting mutual benefit and individual liberty through an open deliberative process. It is this process that, when embraced by its participants, can lead to effective governance and can result in an environment of innovation, respect, collaboration, and collegiality.

Structure of Participatory Governance

Participatory governance at Cerro Coso relies on advisory committees, each concerned with functions critical to the well-being of the college community. The College Council is the primary body for participatory recommendations to the President. The Academic Senate President and the College President jointly chair College Council. College Council is assisted by information gathered by many segments of the college. Information will be provided on a regular basis by representatives of Business Services, Human Resources, the Cerro Coso Community College Foundation, Facilities Construction, and Maintenance and Operations.

Other governance and representative groups at the college include:

- Academic Senate (Full-time Faculty)
- Administrative Cabinet (Management Team)
- California State Employees Association (CSEA) (Permanent Full-time & Part-time Classified)
- Classified Senate (All Classified Staff)
- Community College Association (CCA) (Full-time & Part-time Faculty)
- Student Senate/Student Government of Cerro Coso (SGCC) (Students)

College Council

College Council is primarily responsible for setting the mission, vision, values, and long-term direction of the entire college also known as the Strategic Plan. The mission, vision, and values are reviewed every three years to ensure appropriateness, while the strategic objectives and benchmarks are assessed annually. In all its actions, College Council must place the highest value on building communication and trust with the entire college community, and in using consensus to reach its decisions. It defines a shared vision that has college wide support. College Council integrates the planning efforts of all organizations within the college. College Council makes recommendations regarding District policy, college procedures, instruction, student services, facilities, financial planning, staffing, and organizational development.

College Council defines the roles of, gives direction to, and coordinates operations of sub and associated committees where appropriate.

Each constituent group retains all rights granted it by state law, the Education Code, Title V, Board Policy, and negotiated Collective Bargaining Agreements. These groups cannot give away those rights. Access to College Council is available to constituent groups through their designated representative. College Council actions and activities will be communicated via the College Group; located on the college website under Inside CC. Representatives will be responsible for communicating issues and information to their constituent group and for feedback or input which has been requested by College Council.

College Council and all of its subcommittees represent only one layer of participatory governance at the college. As defined in Title V of the California Code of Regulations, the Academic Senate represents the faculty on academic and professional matters. The Community College Association (CCA) and California State Employees Association (CSEA) unions represent the faculty and classified staff on bargaining unit issues such as wages, hours, working conditions and other contractual matters. The students are represented by the Student Government of Cerro Coso (SGCC) and are covered by the rights defined in Title V. College Council is not a Brown Act Committee (see <http://files.cerrocoso.edu/portal/governance/files/BrownActResponse.pdf> for legal opinion)

Structure of College Council

College Council is structured to serve as the primary recommending body to the College President and works closely with associated and reporting committees to inform the work of the council and its constituents. The College Council does not develop policy but may establish guidelines as recommended by the standing committees and task forces. The College President and the Academic Senate President shall co-chair the College Council. The co-chairs shall be responsible for reviewing minutes and creating agendas that reflect the areas of responsibility of the College Council. The agenda building process will allow for agenda suggestions from all College Council members and members of the college community.

Members from the various constituent groups bring items of concern to the College Council through their representative or through the appropriate standing committee. When items are brought from committees or constituent groups to College Council, the proposal is discussed, accepted or rejected or sent back to the originating group for additional information. Similarly, once an item has reached the College President, the President has the same options as College Council. However, if the College President does not accept the recommendations of College Council, the reasons for not accepting the recommendation(s) will be made in writing, in a timely manner, to the members of the College Council.

The associated and reporting committees of the College Council are: (see Appendices A-D for committee information) representatives of all constituent groups, as well as the college community as a whole. Where feedback suggests areas for improvement, focus groups may be conducted to further evaluate a problem area for more specific information and the development of an improvement plan. Results of this assessment are reported out as part of the college president's State of the College report.

College Constituencies

These constituency groups contribute to the participatory governance process and are made up of organizations that, for the most part, fall under the Brown Act. Each constituency operates under a constitution conceived and adopted by its own membership and periodically reviewed by the College Council.

CSEA is the bargaining unit for the classified employees. Under Senate Bill 235, CSEA was granted additional rights as the exclusive representative status in participatory governance in consideration of the common overlap of bargaining issues within the decision making process. KCCD Process of District Wide Decision Making

The Chancellor, through delegated authority of the Board of Trustees, has numerous committees, council, and other groups who provide advice, recommendations, and/or formal proposals related to Policies and Procedures, and other decisions necessary to the operation of the district. This participatory governance structure provides the Chancellor with advice and recommendations, but it is the Chancellor who has the responsibility for deciding on the route a proposal will take, and for its final disposition. To review the complete KCCD decision making process document go to www.kccd.edu/chancellors-office and select Decision-Making Process. See chart on page 12.

Cerro Coso Community College Process of Decision Making

The decision-making process at the college-level occurs through recommendations to the president from College Council. Sub-committees, associated committees, and constituent groups present items to College Council for consideration. College Council then considers the submissions, engages in dialogue, and makes final recommendations to the president. Although the authority to make decisions for the College rests with the president, great responsibility lies with the recommending bodies to provide the president with the information needed to make the decisions that are in the best interest of the College and its students. See chart on page 13.

Kern Community College District Functional Mapping for Decision Making Chart

This organization/governance chart portrays KCCCD's administration decision-making lines of authority and the governance entities and routes that recommend/advise KCCCD decision-making. The primary KCCCD Participatory Governance entity is Consultation Council. The College President shall be responsible for providing all necessary clerical support for College Council including a recorder for all College Council meetings.

Conducting Meetings

Quorum

A quorum consists of a majority of the voting members. Substitutes for members are allowed on a meeting-to-meeting basis and may vote, with the exception of chair elections.

Voting

All voting must be public.

College Council

A motion passes if there is consensus. Lack of support by three or more voting members indicates an absence of consensus.

Committees of the College Council

A motion passes if a majority of those present vote in favor of the motion.

Absences

Because of the importance of all college constituencies being represented effectively in the participatory governance process, members of the College Council or its associated and reporting committees are expected to attend all regular meetings. Members can send substitutes in their absence, if appropriate.

Changes to Committee Representation

In the event that an associated committee of College Council determines that its representation should be modified, the Chair of the Committee should bring a recommendation forward to the College Council in the same way that other recommendations are brought before the council.

Committee Websites

College Council and each participatory governance committee is expected to have a Channel on the Governance Tab and a Group on Inside CC. The primary purpose of this site is to serve as a college-wide resource and repository of committee documentation and information. The website should be kept current and have a means to contact committee representatives. Information available on the website should include, but not be limited to:

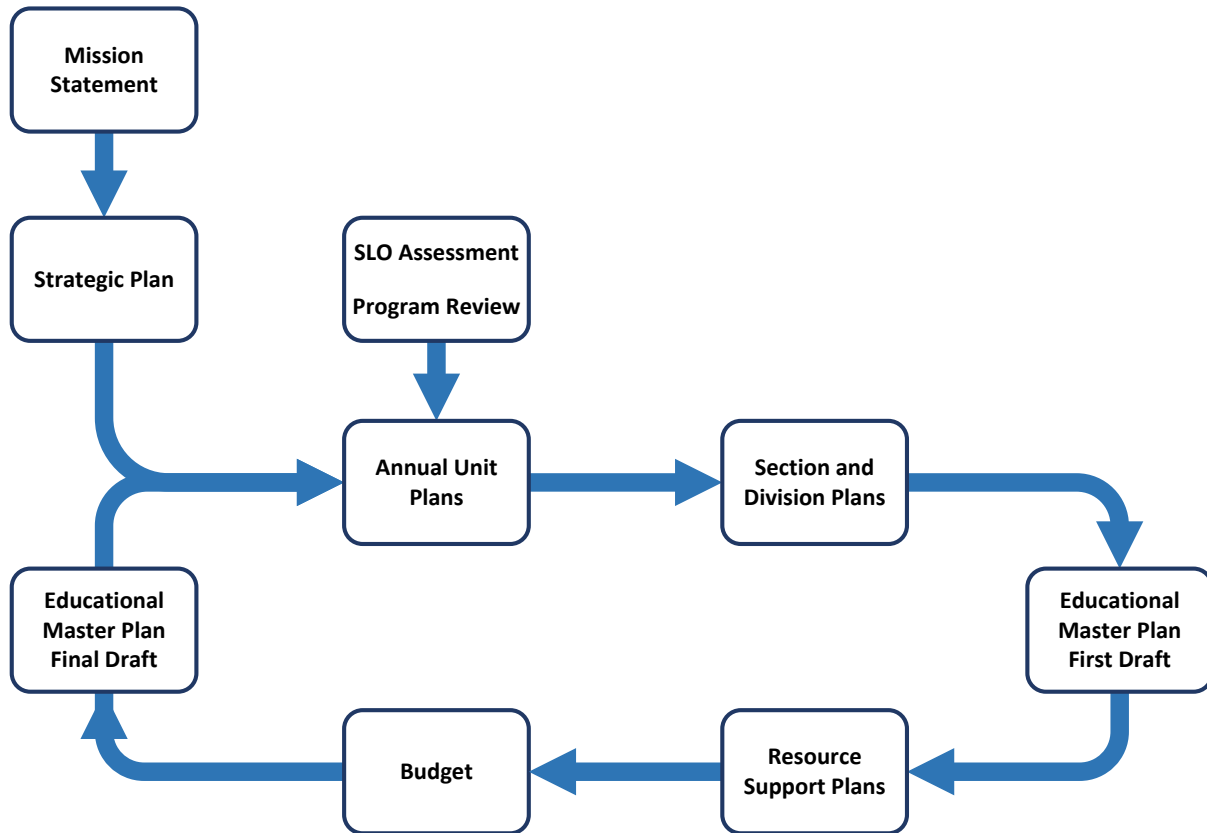

- Mission/Charge/Purpose
- Committee Chair
- Membership (including areas represented)
- Term Limits
- Minutes
- Agendas
- List of scheduled meetings

Institutional Planning Process

College Council integrates the institutional planning efforts of all organizations within the college. As previously mentioned, College Council sets the direction of the college through the development and assessment of the college's mission, vision, values, and its strategic goals. Annually, beginning in October, departments develop and present an Annual Unit Plan (AUP) to College Council. The AUPs inform Section and Division Plans, which in turn inform the Resource Support Plans for staff, facilities, marketing, information technology, professional development, and student success/equity. These plans drive the college budget development, as well as assist in updating the Educational Master Plan and Facility Plan, and in assessing the college's strategic goals.

The diagram on page 17 represents the Institutional Planning Cycle, and the following chart identifies aforementioned college planning documents.

The College Budget

Budget Process

A tentative allocation for the college is determined through the KCCD Budget Allocation Model. A tentative annual budget is prepared in cooperation with the college planning groups and consistent with the strategic planning document of the college. The college budget is prepared to support the Unit Plans that support the mission and strategic goals of the institution. The College President, Vice President of Academic Affairs, Vice President of Student Services, and Director of Administrative Services, in collaboration with Human Resources, determine the cost of permanent labor, instructional adjunct and overload costs, and the college reserve. A standardized budget worksheet that provides the current year's adopted budget is disseminated to budget managers and Faculty Chairs for them to submit all other expenditure requests. The worksheet also includes an area for addressing budgeting instructions.

The budget worksheets are submitted to the Director of Administrative Services to be compiled and sorted into various account categories. Copies of the budget requests and summary worksheets are provided to the Budget Development Committee, a subcommittee of the College Council, where all requests are considered in light of college planning documents and the current fiscal condition. Duplication of requests and possible alternative funding sources are also identified during the process. A Tentative Budget Recommendation is then sent back to College Council for review. The final tentative budget recommendation is then distributed back to budget managers and Faculty Chairs.

Upon receipt of the budget allocation, the committee will reconvene to review the updated budget to determine if further reductions need to be made or if previously deleted items can be reinstated. The proposed budget will then be forwarded to College Council for review and recommendation.

Academic Senate Budget Process

Ad Hoc Committee Members: Yihfen Chen, Matt Crow, Annette Hodgins, Matt Jones, Mary O'Neal, Claudia Sellers

The Academic, as per Title 5, §53200 (c) (10), and the interpretation of Regulation agreed upon by the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges and the Community College League of California is understood to have authority with respect to the development of planning and budget processes, but not with respect to the specific plans and budgets that are the products of these processes. Revision of the Cerro Coso Budget Process may be initiated by the Academic Senate of Cerro Coso Community College or the governing board.

Guiding Principles, The Budget

- Is student centered
- Is bottom-up
- Is comprehensive and fully inclusive

- Incorporates evaluation
- Relies upon transparent communication

A budget is a best guess about what will happen in the future. A budget is a planning tool and is but one of many tools used by Cerro Coso to achieve our mission – student learning. Students must always be the locus of our planning and budget processes. Budgets, the planned inflow and outgo of money, are driven by our program plans and not the other way around. A budget is only one part of a multiple pronged process that includes:

- Formulate annual budget based on program plans that have student learning at the center of the plans
- Implement budget
- Evaluate actual performance against budget quarterly
- Apply lessons learned from variances between budget and actual performance as well as program input on trends and problems to formulation of new, annual budget

The budget process at Cerro Coso is not zero based—the practice of making every department start from $0.00 every year then detail and justify every expenditure. Zero basing is extraordinarily labor intensive with no demonstration that it is a more efficient or effective method of budgeting. Cerro Coso’s budget process starts with a base budget allocation for each program based on actual, historic expenditures. Programs wishing to increase the base budget submit an augmentation request with detailed justification. Augmentations may be one-time or ongoing (added to the base allocation).

Comprehensive, fully inclusive budgets must be reviewed by the Academic Senate. All grants must be approved by the Academic Senate before being submitted.

Every phase of planning and budgeting must include all funding streams and expenditures – not just the general fund. For example, if a department or specific service is dependent on a grant for 80% of its operating revenue and that grant goes away in 3 years, what’s the plan for the program? Because specially funded programs may often become a part of the permanent cadre of programs and services at Cerro Coso, the budget process explicitly requires that all funding streams and expenditures will be reflected in a comprehensive budget and no grant will be competed for without first being approved by the Academic Senate.

The Cerro Coso Budget Committee will be comprised of

- 3 faculty
- 1 student
- 3 classified staff
- 2 Vice-Presidents, Deans OR Directors
- Chief Business Officer

The Cerro Coso Budget Committee will conduct regular analysis of local and district reports:

All members of the department review prior years’ plans and budgets and what actually happened. Departments discuss the base allocation and, if needed, focus on no more than 3 new items where there is the most urgent need based on the greatest contribution to student success. Cost should not be a factor in the department’s decision about its focus. The department will mindfully rank augmentation requests with each request having a different priority ranking.

- August 15. Vice-President or designee will provide Department Chairs with base, line-item budget worksheets reflecting the previous 3 years’ budget and actual performance data. Base, line-item budget worksheets will include the total cost for full-time faculty, part-time faculty, and benefits.
