

ANTH C121 Content Review

Advisory Reading - 1 Level Prior to Transfer	Students are expected to read and comprehend a college-level text book explaining complex anthropological theories. In addition, they must critically analyze advanced scholarly articles for a research paper. The reading advisory level ensures students have the skills necessary for success in these assignments.
Advisory Writing - 1 Level Prior to Transfer	Students in this course are required to write a research paper as well as respond to essay questions on exams. This requires that they write in a clear and organized manner free from errors. The writing advisory level ensures students have the skills necessary for success in these assignments.

Course Title	Human Resource Management
Non-Credit Category	Click here to choose Non-Credit Category.

1. Entering Skills Expected of Students Coming Into the Course:
 - A. Ability to solve word problems using a mathematical equation
 - B. Ability to solve linear equations
 - C. Ability to add, subtract, multiply and divide algebraic expressions
 - D. Ability to use integer exponents and the associated rules of exponents

Proposed Requisite: Level 2 Math
 Source of List: Mathematics Level Standards

Students at Level 2 Math will be able to

- A. use the distributive law to collect like terms.
- B. solve linear equations of the form $ax + b = c$ with a, b, c rational numbers using the addition property of equality and the multiplication property of equality.
- C. solve a variety of word application problems that require a first degree equation with one unknown.
- D. factor using the common factor method, the difference of squares pattern, and the process for factoring quadratic trinomials into two binomials.
- E. solve a quadratic equation using the Zero Factor Property.
- F. solve word application problems that require a second degree equation in one variable using the zero factor property.
- G. demonstrate familiarity with the four basic inequality relationships.
- H. demonstrate familiarity with the absolute value of an integer.
- I. use integer exponents accurately, applying the product rule, quotient rule, and power rule.
- J. simplify radicals using the product rule.
- K. demonstrate familiarity with the rules for addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division of rational algebraic expressions
- L. solve rational equations in one unknown and word problems requiring this skill.
- M. solve a system of linear equations using addition elimination and substitution methods.
- N. solve word problems using two linear equations in two unknowns.
- O. graph a linear equation in two variables.
- P. demonstrate familiarity with the concept of the slope of a line.

BSOT C100 Content Review

Advisory Reading - 1 Level Prior to Transfer and	Students need to be able to read and annotate text and office resource books for more complete understanding.
Advisory Writing - 2 Levels Prior to Transfer and	Students will need to be able to write compositions of at least 500 words with clear organization, thesis, topic sentences, keywords, transitions, and sufficient, logical supporting details. Students will also identify and correct major errors in grammar and practice proofreading, revision, and editing techniques for better focus, structure, and style.
Advisory CSCI C070	Students need to be able to create basic files in Word, save them to a folder, and find them again. Students will also need to be able to send and receive email and be able to log into an online environment.

CHDV C106 Content Review

Advisory CHDV C100 and	CHDV C106 requires students to already have a basic understanding of child development as a professional field that supports children's growth and development. CHDV C100 provides an introduction to the field of child development, the history of early childhood education, different types of programs and requirements, developmental domains, basic theories of development, and the skills necessary to be successful in this field. The knowledge and skills developed in C100 ensures that students are at least familiar with the theoretical concepts and developmental domains being applied in C106.
Advisory Reading - 1 Level Prior to Transfer and	Reading Level 1 skills prepare students to succeed in CHDV C106 by ensuring they have the skills to read textbooks, journal articles, and assigned readings, and are able to make connections between regulations, developmental theory, and program best practices. The ability to make these connections adequately prepares students to participate in discussions, formulate answers for quizzes and exams, and summarize materials read. Reading Level 1 skills also ensure students have the ability to identify central points, evaluate sources, distinguish fact from opinion, identify bias, and draw inferences, all important skills when learning how to work with young children.
Advisory Writing - 1 Level Prior to Transfer	In CHDV C106 students are expected to write summaries of text chapters, journal articles, observations, and assigned readings as well as to make connections between their observations of young children's development with developmental theory and program best practices. Writing Level 1 skills prepare student to succeed in CHDV C106 by ensuring they are able to write short essays that synthesize observations, lectures, and assigned readings that are free of major spelling and grammatical errors. Writing Level 1 skills ensure that students are able to compose a formal research paper from multiple sources including finding, evaluating, organizing, and synthesizing college-level reading materials and to construct a detailed outline and annotated bibliography that projects the structure of the research paper and reflects the extent of their literature search and the relevance of the sources chosen. Writing Level 1 skills prepare students to use the corrected proof of their outline to draft a research paper that is properly formatted and written in clear, grammatically correct prose.

CHEM C221 Content Review

Prerequisite CHEM C111	The exit skills of Chem C111 provide the student with knowledge and ability to understand the basics of chemical structures, reaction mechanisms and perform supervised experiments in chemistry. Furthermore, American Chemical Society guidelines require that at least 1 semester of General Inorganic Chemistry be a prerequisite for Organic Chemistry.

EMTC C110 Content Review

Prerequisite EMTC C105	Students must have successfully completed an EMTC C105 course or hold a valid certification/license as an Emergency Medical Technician, Advanced EMT, Paramedic, Registered Nurse, Physician Assistant, or Medical Doctor.
---------------------------	--

ENGR C230 Content Review

Prerequisite PHYS C113	Students will be required to have an understanding of electricity and magnetism, especially as they relate to types of circuits, as well as the necessary differential calculus that is a prerequisite for PHYS C113

HCRS C133 Content Review

Prerequisite HCRS C150 and	HCRS C150: Medical Terminology is a part of the core courses required in the new Administrative Medical Assisting Certificate. Students will need the medical terminology learned in HCRS C150 to be successful in HCRS C133.
Prerequisite HCRS C130 and	HCRS C130: Healthcare Communication is a part of the core courses required in the new Administrative Medical Assisting Certificate. Students will need the communication skills learned in HCRS C130 to be successful in HCRS C133.
Prerequisite HCRS C131 and	HCRS C131: Medical Law and Ethics is a part of the core courses required in the new Administrative Medical Assisting Certificate. Students will need the ethical and legal information proved in HCRS C131 to be successful in HCRS C133.
Prerequisite HCRS C132	HCRS C132: Electronic Health Record is a part of the core courses required in the new Administrative Medical Assisting Certificate. Students will need the basic electronic medical records skills acquired in HCRS C132 to be successful in HCRS C133.

PHSC C102 Content Review

Prerequisite PHSC C101	The lecture topics in PHSC C101 cover the theoretical aspects of the laboratory experiments that will be performed. It is necessary for the student to concurrently have, or recently have had the background theoretical information to successfully perform the experiments.
Corequisite PHSC C101	The lecture topics in PHSC C101 cover the theoretical aspects of the laboratory experiments that will be performed. It is necessary for the student to concurrently have, or recently have had the background theoretical information to successfully preform the experiments.
