Information Competency C075:

SLO A maps to Information Competency GELO A; SLO C maps to GELO A; SLO B maps to GELO B; SLO D maps to GELO B.

Information Competency GELO

- A. Explain the fundamentals of the research process and documentation style.
- B. Clearly articulate types of information needed to address a research problem and evaluate the credibility of sources.

IC C075—Introduction to Library Research and Bibliography

Upon completion of the course, the student will be able to

- A. List and explain the basic steps in the research process.
- B. Clearly articulate quality of information needed to solve a research problem.
- C. Write complete bibliographic citations using a standard citation format for sources relevant to the topic of a research question.
- D. Evaluate the credibility of web sites by applying standard criteria.
- E. Describe the basic legal and ethical issues of intellectual property such as copyright, fair use, and plagiarism.

Links:

SLO A applies to GELO A—students can explain the fundamentals of the research process because they can list and explain the fundamentals of the research process.

SLO C applies to GELO A—students can explain the fundamentals of documentation style because they can write complete bibliographic citations using a standard citation format.

SLO B applies to GELO B—students can clearly articulate types of information needed to address a research problem because they can articulate the quality of information needed to solve a research problem.

SLO D applies to GELO B—students can evaluate the credibility of sources because they can evaluate the credibility of web sites by applying standard criteria.
