Course Description:	This course is beneficial to students at a low beginning skill level. Students learn English vocabulary, as well as improve their listening and speaking skills. Using both spoken and written drills and exercises, students learn and practice the basic parts of an English sentence. By giving needs and skills assessments to the students, instructors determine personal goals, ability to benefit from the class, and skill level. Advisory: The use of language other than English as a primary language is advised. Students should be literate in their native languages. Also, the ability to speak, understand, read, and write English at a survival level is desirable.

Rigor Statement: Assignments and evaluations should be of the same rigor as those used in the on-ground course. If they are not the same as those noted in the COR on the Methods of Evaluation and out-of-class assignments pages, indicate what the differences are and why they are being used. For instance, if labs, field trips, or site visits are required in the face to face section of this course, how will these requirements be met with the same rigor in the Distance Education section?

Accessibility: Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act requires access to the Federal government's electronic and information technology. The law covers all types of electronic and information technology in the Federal sector and is not limited to assistive technologies used by people with disabilities. It applies to all Federal agencies when they develop, procure, maintain, or use such technology. Federal agencies must ensure that this technology is accessible to employees and the public to the extent it does not pose an "undue burden". I am using -iTV—Interactive Video only -Learning management system -Publisher course with learning management system interface.
